

Dear Padre,

Why can't a Protestant receive the Eucharist at a Catholic Mass?

United by baptism, fellow Christians are our brothers and sisters in the Lord. As such, they are always welcome at Catholic Mass, but they do not ordinarily participate in holy Communion. "Because Catholics believe that the celebration of the Eucharist is a sign of the reality of the oneness of faith, life, and worship, members of those churches with whom we are not yet fully united are ordinarily not admitted to holy Communion" (Code of Canon Law, 844 §4).

When Catholics receive Holy Communion, they firmly believe the bread and wine are transformed into the Real Presence of Christ. In the Eucharist, we become part of the body of Christ and share in holiness and unity with one another. Our "Amen" to "The Body of Christ" and "The Blood of Christ" means, "Truly, so be it!" It indicates that we affirm our belief in this mystery, which is fundamental to our Catholic identity. If non-Catholics receive the Eucharist but do not embrace this identity and same belief, it may disrespect Catholics who do, as well as disrespect their own identity in the denomination to which they belong.

However, at Mass, fellow Christians can join their prayers with Catholics in praising God. Together, we also pray that the divisions which separate us will finally disappear, in keeping with Christ's prayer for us "that they may all be one" (John 17:21). ●

A WORD FROM POPE LEO XIV

Dear brothers and sisters, all too much violence exists in the world and our societies. Amid wars, terrorism, human trafficking, and widespread aggression, our children and young people need to be able to experience the culture of life, dialogue, and mutual respect. Above all, they need the witness of...those who have suffered injustice and violence [and] resist the temptation to seek revenge.

ADDRESS TO THE "ARENA OF PEACE," ROME, MAY 30, 2025

Judged or Invited?

FR. THOMAS M. SANTA, CSSR

"Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand" (Matthew 3:2) is the message preached by Jesus after the arrest of John the Baptist. It is important to place this message in context. Jesus is not repeating the preaching of the Baptist. His message is unique and compelling.

Look closely at what Jesus is saying. Do not automatically fill in the blanks with the memories of every sermon you have heard. Try to hear Jesus' words again, for the first time. Is the emphasis on "repent," or is the emphasis on the announcement, "The kingdom of heaven is at hand"? Does it make any difference?

Repeat these words and change the emphasis each time. Play with the words. Let the words play with you. Notice how you respond. Notice what makes a difference. Notice how you react, and, most of all, notice whether you feel invited or you feel judged.

The Baptist made no bones about it. You are being judged: "Even now the ax lies at the root of the trees" (Matthew 3:10). Jesus, on the other hand, seems not to judge but to invite: "for the kingdom of heaven is at hand" (Matthew 4:17).

In the invitation, we are challenged to see in a different way. Use different skills. Refrain from automatic judgments. Seek to understand but, most of all, to accept and to love. ●

What does "repent" mean to me?
A threat or an invitation?

Pastor's Corner

Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

One of our callings as Catholics is to perform acts of mercy among those who are poor, vulnerable, or marginalized. These merciful works include feeding the hungry, visiting and treating the sick, and providing shelter to those who are homeless. Another entails visiting those who are in prison. The Litoral Penitentiary in Guayaquil, Ecuador, is that country's largest and most dangerous prison. The prison complex, designed to house 5,000 inmates, is severely overcrowded, with an estimated 10,000 inmates. The excessive population combined with violence among rival gangs has killed hundreds. Despite this danger, dedicated volunteers from the Archdiocese of Guayaquil's Office of Prison Ministry visit the inmates to bring the hopeful message of the Gospel to men at risk of committing or falling victim to violence or the influence of dangerous gangs. With crucial funding received through the Collection for the Church in Latin America, these volunteer ministers bring the light of Christ into a place marked by violence and fear. Your support for the Collection for the Church in Latin America is a way you can share your faith with your brothers and sisters in Central and South America and the Caribbean islands and can strengthen the ministries of mercy that bring the healing message of the Gospel to the poorest and most vulnerable. May our merciful and loving God, through the intercession of Our Lady of Guadalupe, Patroness of the Americas, bless you always. With every best wish and an assurance of prayers, I remain,
Most Rev. Edgar M. da Cunha, SDV
Chairman, USCCB Subcommittee on the Church in Latin America
